

Dr. Marta Cronin

2008 – 2011 Susan H. Johnson Endowed Teaching Chair

Dr. Marta Cronin, Associate Professor of the Education Department, recipient of the Susan H. Johnson Endowed Teaching Chair, created a Pre-Professional Development Institute for education students. This Institute arranged for hands-on workshops in the disciplines of math, science, ESOL, special education and reading. The workshops were conducted by nationally or Florida certified teachers in one of the four counties served by IRSC.

The Institute provided prospective teachers with an opportunity to network with other teachers and learn methods and approaches that are currently working in today's classrooms. This experience provided our education students with real, hands-on training.

Dr. Cronin joined IRSC in 2001. She received her Bachelor's Degree from the University of Miami, her Master's Degree from Barry University, and her Doctorate in Education from the University of Sarasota.
